Hello,

As a 30-year Seattle and King Co. resident, who has observed the ever-increasing congestion of SOVs, I encourage you to support alternatives to driving alone. Anything else is an improvement--walking, biking, busing, 'training'. My 18 year-old son has grown up in Seattle, and having observed the driving habits of the 'me first' has opted to have no drivers license. Please help him by expanding the other options!
